

Application with an international degree

Documents for review of academic qualifications and placement¹ into the specialized M Sc in Climate Sciences offered by the Faculty of Science

Carefully read the following introductory notes before compiling the required documents.

1: Application

- Online application www.application.unibe.ch
- Required documents see checklist in this document
- Application deadlines www.unibe.ch/applicationdeadlines_students;
Preferred semester for the start of this degree program: fall

2: Important information

Application

- You may apply for admission to one major or mono study program.
- Hand in your application file as early as possible – ideally 4 months prior to the start of the degree program.

Supporting documents to your application

- All documents must be sent by letter post in one file. We do not review any electronic documents.
- Missing documents will be requested; they delay the application process.
- Your eligibility for admission will only be reviewed after receipt of all the required documents, the application fee – and if need be – additional fee for a late application.

Application after the regular application deadline

If you apply after the regular application deadline, the supporting documents to your application must arrive by 31 August and 31 January respectively.

¹ The Graduate School of Climate Sciences of the Faculty of Science evaluates your previous study record, assesses which courses at master or bachelor level you still need to attend before being admitted to the specialized MSc in Climate Sciences and decides on what level you will be placed at and how many of your credits can be transferred. Basis of the recognition of your degree and study achievements are the documents submitted at the time of the request.

Decision of admission

The decision of admission is taken and communicated by the Admissions Office.

3: Language requirements

Courses at the Graduate School of Climate Sciences are given in English or, depending on the audience, in German. Advanced English skills corresponding to CEF level C1 of the European language portfolio (Self-assessment grid) are needed.

If your language skills are at level B2, you are also admitted to the program, but with the obligation to attend language courses at the University of Bern to reach level C1 within the first year.

Mother tongue is regarded as your actual mother tongue, or the language in which you obtained the educational or academic credentials entitling you to study at the university.

The Academic English Services offers language courses to registered students.

4: Further procedure

Personal interviews:

- for entry in fall: May
- for entry in spring: December/January

5: Studying

Studies at the University of Bern are full-time. We do not offer any part-time studies.
